

DIMITRIOS K FILIPPIADIS MD, PhD, MSc, EBIR.

Dimitrios Filippiadis was specialized in the field of Radiology at Children's Hospital "AGIA SOFIA", Oncologic Hospital "AGIOS SAVVAS" and at the 2nd Radiology Dpt of University General Hospital "ATTIKON". He received his Radiology Diploma in 2009 post written and oral examinations.

In 2006 he received his Master's Degree (MSc) upon Interventional Radiology (2 years course, grade: excellent)

He has served as a Visiting Clinician at the Radiology Dpt / University of Strasbourg in France (2008) and at the Radiology Dpt / University of Bonn in Germany (2009).

In 2012 he received his PhD under Asc. Prof. Alexis Kelekis (Thesis: "Quantitative Discomanometry") from National and Kapodistrian University in Athens, Greece.

Since 2011 he has served as Fellow and Consultant at the 2nd Radiology Dpt of University General Hospital "ATTIKON" with full clinical, tutorial and research activity.

Since June 2014 he works at the Radiology Dpt of Mediterraneo Hospital focusing upon MSK imaging as well as upon Interventional Radiology – Interventional Oncology minimally invasive techniques.

In July 2016 he was elected Assistant Professor in Diagnostic and Interventional Radiology at the Medical School of National and Kapodistrian University of Athens.

He is a member of Greek, European and American societies of Radiology and Interventional Radiology. He has published studies in peer-reviewed journals and he is the author of book chapters in Greek and International books of Radiology, Interventional Radiology and Interventional Oncology.

He has served as faculty member in Greek and International scientific meetings.